NO BARRIERS FESTIVAL 2007

June 28- July 2, 2007 in Squaw Valley, CA
An Opportunity to View Demonstrations and Try New Skills

Using LEKI Poles

Using a Segway HT

At FESTIVAL 2007 there will be an opportunity to see and try-out innovative equipment and learn new techniques.

The Segway HT represents the promise that universal design and technology can come together to create a world which is more accessible to all. See and try a device which will allow you to interact with society, standing. DRAFT

Take a look at specially-adapted, high performance hand cycles, such as the One-Off, SUPERBIKE, The Climber, HandCycle, SnowPod. Try them, talk to the developers and hear about their amazing journeys. Freedom Ryder, Steve Ackerman, Darol Kubacz, Peter Rieke, Bob Vogel

The concept of using two poles as means of relieving stress on knee joints and the lower back has appealed to climbers and hikers for years. Now, LEKI poles are increasingly being recognized and appreciated for their preventive health and safety benefits. Learn the technique of how to use LEKI poles as aids for general mobility and sport. LEKI

A profound partnership between person and dog - and help to unleash the potential in both of them. But it doesn't happen by accident. It takes preparation, a world class training program, and support through life's challenges. Hear about that partnership. Guide Dogs for the Blind

The low-impact nature of rowing makes it a great way to rebuild muscle tone and strength while increasing mobility and flexibility. Whether you're 9 or 90, already fit or getting fit, rowing offers a superb aerobic workout to help you achieve your fitness goals. Concept2

Simple and more complex adaptations can make kayaking a wonderful way to gain access to the wilderness, increase environmental awareness and share an adventure. Cindy Dillenschneider

Adaptive fishing's a chance to interact with the natural world, make new friends and meet professional local fishing guides. Learn the newest and greatest techniques for all types of fishing. Let us find out what works for you and get you out there catching the big one. Turning P.O.I.N.T. Tahoe
